HELP MOLD THE MEN AT

Belmont Abbey

FOREWORD...

An Abbey student at the end of his college career is apt, we find, to feel differently about the purpose of his education than he did when he began. After four years at Belmont Abbey College we have come to realize that genuine education aims to perfect the man, and not just to produce the lawyer or teacher or accountant. To be concerned with fundamental questions, to know and comprehend what is intrinsically important, to acquire the habit of truth, to perfect the faculties which make us men—these are some of the ideals which the Abbey has given us the opportunity to serve.

Learning how to make a living and how to do one's work skilfully and dependably—these are important, and we have seen their importance reflected in the Abbey's training of its students. Learning how to enjoy life and how properly to appreciate its best pleasures, how to make and keep and enjoy friends and how to get along in society—these are also important, and in the pages which follow, there is proof that the Abbey does full justice to its students in all these things. Philosophy and math and accounting courses, student publications, clubs, teams, games, dances, plays, picnics, meetings, and broadcasts, and all the community life of the college—all these we count as education. Through all of them, we have benefited over the years from each other and from the character and traditions of the Abbey. Nor do we anticipate an end to the process of learning and growth when we leave this campus. We hope that from the dedicated men of our faculty, from each other, and from the whole experience of college life, we have acquired some of the habits of learning and growing, and will be able to take them with us into whatever we do. We who will leave Belmont Abbey College in June of 1959 look back with satisfaction and with gratitude upon the life of the campus which we have tried to mirror in these pages.

We would like to recognize here a contribution to the life of Belmont Abbey which we consider especially valuable. Occasionally, one finds an administrator whose use of his power gives guidance and inspiration to those around him—a man whose personal authority rests on integrity and devotion to principle, and whose firmness can not be resented, because it is impartial and demands no more of others than of itself. Such a man does whatever is right and reasonable, without concern over whether it will make him personally liked or feared. By so doing, he incidentally achieves one striking result: he is both warmly liked and truly respected. To such a man we respectfully dedicate the 1959 Spire. We wish by this dedication to acknowledge our debt to FATHER RAPHAEL G. BRIDGES, O.S.B., Dean of Men of Belmont Abbey College. We have profited greatly from his services to us as dean, teacher, and friend.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The President's Message

In the new Abbot Vincent Taylor Library may be seen the exquisite stained glass window. It is a double panneled window made up of symbols that represent the philosophy, the objectives, and the aims of Belmont Abbey College.

The left-hand panel is dedicated to St. Benedict, the founder of the Benedictine Order and the author of the Holy Rule by which the monks of the Abbey live. St. Benedict represents the Good Life, the virtuous life, and pictured are the symbols that indicate how the Good is attained: by a disciplined life, a way of living that will transform day-to-day actions and perfect them, as one strives for the Supernatural Good which is the end and object of human existence.

In the right-hand panel are the symbols associated with St. Thomas Aquinas, the Angelic doctor, and patron of college students. The symbols reflect the search after truth, the development of the intellectual virtues, and the attainment of wisdom, transformed by the divine knowledge revealed by Christ to us.

As the Abbey student is daily confronted by the striking beauty of the stained glass, he has unfolded before him, in a symbolic medium, the ideals of the college student: the Good, the True, the Beautiful; and a daily reminder that the Abbey can be a catalyst whereby the student may discipline his exercised free will and attain that body of knowledge to be transmitted into wisdom.

"I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life," our Blessed Lord teaches us. The Abbey student must ever be mindful that without Christ, the Way, there is no going; with the Truth, there is no knowing; without the Life, there is no living!

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

In order to foster initiative and leadership, a system of Student Government has been established by the students of Belmont Abbey College. The general purpose of the Student Government is to develop, in a practical way, the powers of self-government, to foster a sense of responsibility, and to cultivate the social amenities.

The Student Government of Belmont Abbey College is composed of a president, vice president, recording secretary, treasurer, the presidents of the classes, class representatives, and the presidents or representatives of organizations, clubs, and societies chartered by the Student Government.

Vice-President Zean Jamison.

1959 SPIRE STAFF

You have only to look around our campus to see that the Abbey is changing. Enrollment has increased, academic standards are higher, new faces are seen on the faculty. We have a beautiful (and busy) new library and student center. Our basketball team, this year, for the first time, participated in the NCAA championship playoffs, and intercollegiate soccer made its initial appearance.

It seems clear to me that this is the year when the Spire, too, ought to break away from precedent. In its cover and binding, its pictorial content, and the informality of its approach to campus life, it represents, I hope, a true reflection of the increased stature and vitality of the Abbey. May this 1959 memento portray the pride the Abbey has in its students and the students in the Abbey.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club is an organization of scientific minded students.

Their main activities are their periodical meetings where a guest speaker lectures on his particular branch of science.

These meetings are for the benefit of the Abbey students, who will soon be trying to make their own impressions on the scientific world.

Perhaps some of these men will be tomorrow's leaders in the world of science.

BACSC has grown with its Alma Mater in size and stature. We began our "SERVICE" to all Home Events of BAC in 1952. Ours has been a very active organization on the Campus. We have averaged 75 members yearly who have followed the characteristic of the Service Club—"Organization, Cooperation, and Participation." We have tried to promote good will and understanding between visitors and the College, also to create mutual friendship among our neighboring colleges. Our duties have been numerous: ever watchful to aid in parking problems, proper seating of visiting sports fans, and to satisfy all visitors by being courteous and helpful. Truly, this is one of Belmont Abbey College's most vital organizations.

SQU

STUDENTS QUICK UNITY

Squires sponsar spaghetti supper for basketball team blazers.

A unique group of purposeful students exists an campus, informal in organization but united toward ane goal—SPIRIT!

These of the Crusaders have already been praven by their masters' dependence on their suppart to be an integral part of Abbey's winning ways.

Decorations, pep rallies, matorcades, and even the blazers donned when traveling to and from "away" games may be tatally attributed to this spirit-minded group of Abbeymen. The blazers are the direct result of a concentrated drive in the fall which was highlighted by a spaghetti supper.

The need for the Squires was obvious; their response even more so. This year should stand out prominently in the "spirit" annals of Belmont Abbey College.

DELTA EPSILON SIGMA

A college of its nature and function, is a community of scholars. The faculty and the students create a rapport in their mutual desire to acquire truth and widen their horizon of knowledge. The college campus, the buildings, halls, lecture rooms, and laboratories are but the facilities by which the students orient themselves in the pursuit of wisdom.

As an incentive: as well as a reward and recognition; those students who give evidence of superior performance in their academic achievements are elected to membership in the Delta Epsilon Sigma, the national collegiate honor society.

The Gamma Iota Chapter on the Abbey Campus selects only those students who maintain above a 2.00 average during their four years of undergraduate studies and are elected to D.E.S. in their senior year.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON COLONY

Tau Kappa Epsilon, "the fraternity for life," is one of the largest national social fraternities, having over 33,000 members in 145 chapters. TKE was founded in 1899 and established on the campus of Belmont Abbey College in 1959. The fraternity stands for men. We believe in their equality in those things which the Creator has decreed they should enjoy. We stand for men whose manhood has withstood the test of trying conditions. We deem sterling character and staunch uprightness to be necessary qualifications to membership in this fraternity. All else though desirable, is secondary to these. Symbolism and tradition in Tau Kappa Epsilon are rich, colorful, and original. Our ritualism is a living document which is constantly growing with the fraternity.

PHI KAPPA COLONY

Phi Kappa is a national social fraternity of Cathalic men chartered to promote social and intellectual programs among its members, to identify students and alumni more closely with their callege, and to cultivate a spirit of layalty to their Alma Mater.

Founded in 1899 at Brown University, Phi Kappa is now an integral part of many universities and calleges. The Belmant Abbey colony was formed in 1958.

Phi Kappa is distinguished from other national social fraternities in that it offers men af common faith not only the advantages af social life, but it offers them these advantages in a Catholic environment.

"If they all come out this good we will be in great shape."

The Camera Club was founded a few years ago to provide an outlet for the enthusiasm of amateur photographers on campus, and to give those original "lens loonies," a chance to sharpen their skills by sharing technical knowledge and new ideas. The club still serves those purposes, and makes available to its members an impressive arsenal of equipment. Although its membership is at the moment not large, its achievements for the year are impressive. It has provided photographs for the CONTACT and for Public Relations, and has produced the variety of pictures seen in this yearbook. It even took a picture or two for the SACRED HEART ECHOES, the weekly publication of our sister college down the road.

OBLATES OF ST. BENEDICT

The Act of Oblation, made by an oblate of Saint Benedict, is a rite approved by the Church, by which anyone of the faithful living in the world . . . offers himself to God, our Savior, to the Blessed Virgin Mary and to our holy Father Benedict. By this act he spiritually affiliates himself with a Benedictine monastery and its community, in order thereby to lead a more perfect Christian life in the world according to the spirit of the rule of Saint Benedict; to share likewise in the spiritual treasurers of the Benedictine Order and enjoy the special privileges granted by the Church to the Oblates.

To provide an opportunity for students to familiarize themselves with the complete liturgy of the Church, the St. John Berchman's Society was founded in 1914.

Members serve during all solemn liturgical functions in the Abbey Cathedral of Mary, Help of Christians. Their activities lend further dignity to these age-old ceremonies and are in full accord with the Benedictine tradition of correct liturgical worship.

THE WIVES AUXILIARY

BELMONT ABBEY COLLEGE STUDENTS' WIVES' AUXILIARY

With so many married students enrolled at Belmont Abbey College, in order that their wives may became better acquainted and discuss the mutual problems confronting a wife whose husband is in school, the Wives' Auxiliary was formed and held its first meeting in February of 1956. Fran (Mrs. Tony, '56) Muller was the original organizer and first president and spearheaded the activities of the Auxiliary on the campus.

A "get acquainted" picnic is held at the beginning of the first semester and the Christmas party for the children is an annual event; one big project during the year (a "Birthday" party the first year, a fashion shaw last year, and a Benefit Card Party this year); the now traditional Senior Dance Party sponsored by the Auxiliary; a lecture series; and a picnic at the end of school: these are the highlights of the year.

The lecture series this year was on "Child Psychology," illustrated with films.

Officers the first semester were Nan (Mrs. Pete) Smith, President; Barbara (Mrs. Ken) Quick, Vice President; Judy (Mrs Richard) Ferguson, Secretary; and Clara (Mrs. Robert) Whitman, Treasurer.

Second semester officers are Barbara (Mrs. Ken) Quick, President; Dolores (Mrs. Don) Johnson, Vice President; Marion (Mrs. James) Smith, Secretary; and Johnnie (Mrs. Carl) Frye, Treasurer

Mrs Mary Cook is Faculty Moderator of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Donald Johnson, Vice-President, and Mrs. Kenneth Quick, President, seem very pleased with the results of the recent election.

The student's wives give their undivided attention to Fr. Cuthbert, O.S.B., as he lectures on child psychology.

The Wives Auxiliary along with their moderator discuss plans for the coming Easter parade.

Fr. Cuthbert, O.S.B., explains the finer points of his last film.

Oedipus' pathetic farewell to his beloved daughters.

OEDIPUS REX

On March 8, 1959, Players Incorporated, a professional repertory company composed of graduates of the Drama School of the Cathalic University of America, brought to our auditorium a superb performance of Sophocles' Oedipus Rex. The play is one which some critics consider the world's greatest tragedy; the compony is second to none in its command of classic drama; the results were what you would expect: it was an electrifying evening.

An expert portrayal of Oedipus' rash anger against Crean.

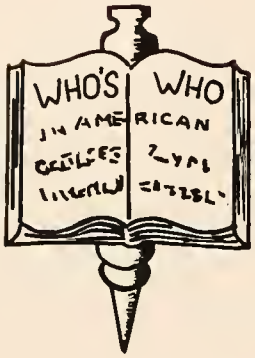
WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN



Who's Who Among College Students in American Universities and Colleges seeks for its ranks the scholarly student, the leader in academic and extracurricular activity, the good college citizen, the student stamped with the promise of future success. Such an honor demands talent, demands effort, demands sacrifice. Its recipients are indeed honored, but not thereby placed upon an educational pedestal. Rather, more becomes expected of them as they fulfill the promise-for-the-future reflected in their outstanding college careers.

This past year saw a significant change in our cheerleading corps. For the first time Abbey students engaged in what had hitherto been an activity dominated entirely by Sacred Heart students. It was, however, a pleasant change to see our boys working together with the girls.

Crusaders host Western Maryland at Davis Park in Belmont, N. C.

Playing one of the most ambitious college schedules in its history, the Crusaders have done a remarkable job. It looks like they will finish on the right side of the ledger. Intersectional opponents included West Virginia University, Western Maryland, Carson-Newman, and Adelphi. Neighboring opponents were Davidson, Lenoir Rhyne, Newberry, Pembroke, Wofford, Presbyterian, Catawba, and Pfeiffer. The team's veterans were: Jim McNeil, Denny Tangredi, Wilmer Earle, Jerry Meserve, Pete McCarry, Gary Cannon, Tom Fritch, and Al Beam. Newcomers included Tom Harkey, Jim Bennett, G. W. Fortenberry, Thad Malinowski, J. C. O'Daniel, Choosy Byers, Mike D'Angelo, and Cecil Hayes.

A panoramic view of the Crusaders in action.

O'Daniel to Meserve and the runner is out!

Jim McNeil smashes a "blue-darter."

Joe Romeo displays the form that made him a top contender for intramural honors.

Intramurals at Belmont Abbey are always conducted with keen competition between classes. Rivalries are plentiful and sometimes almost bitter. However, an atmosphere of sportsmanship and friendliness is always evident.

INTRAMURALS

The perrennial champions, a formidable squad of Seniors.

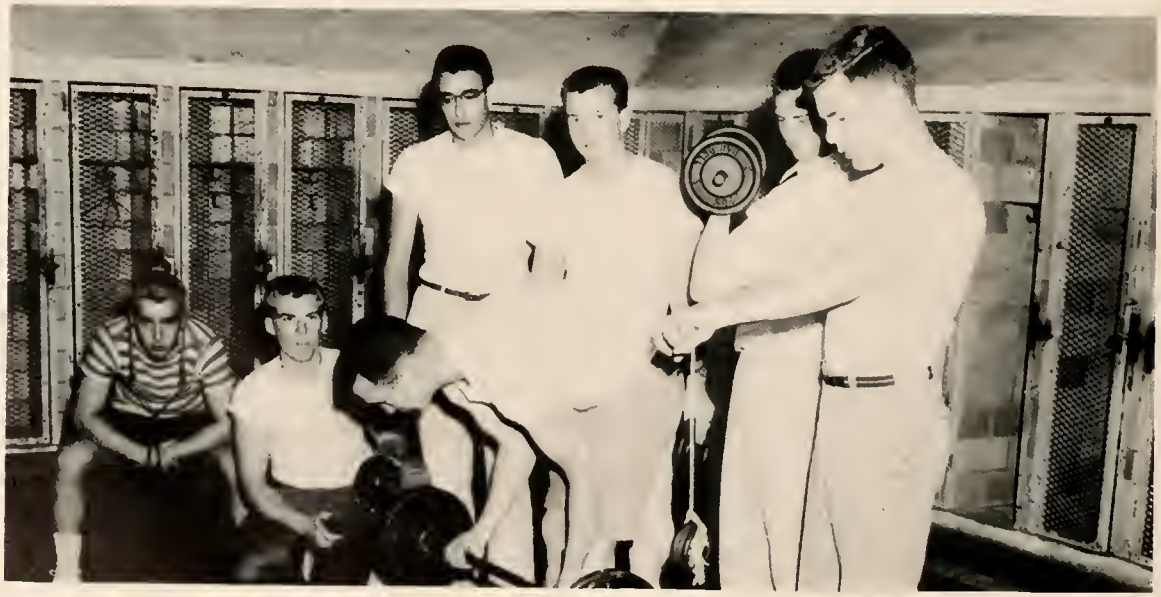
A New York farm of baseball called "stickball".

"Yankees" versus the "Rebels."

Only the sure-footed members can participate in soccer.

The newest of the sports introduced at the Abbey, Soccer, finds many willing participants.

Weight-lifting also finds a spot in Abbey sports.



A group of fellow weight-lifters admire Frank Trombino's ability.

Carl Leffler, always a rugged competitar an the court.

This is the group that aspires to form Abbey's first official weight-lifting team.

GOLF

This year's golf team is a contingent of entirely new faces. It is difficult to predict the outcome of the matches. However, we feel confident that these able golfers will respectfully represent the Abbey not only in competition but also in sportsmanship.

Kneeling, Left to Right: Flynn Warren, Bennie Holloway. Standing, Left to Right: John Picard, Lewis King, Thomas Fletcher.

Flynn Warren . . . always a sub-par man.

Lew King . . . his score matches his form.

Tommy Fletcher . . . a real duffer.

Bennie Halloway . . . it's not the way you hit them, it's the way you look.

Johnny Picard . . . a solid man under pressure.

RIFLE CLUB

The rifle club, this year, expanded greatly with the addition of several new members. Under the able instruction of Sgt. Roy Costner, Moderator, the team was quite successful in match competition. Led by Wriston Thompson and Joe Colletto the squad is looking forward to next year and even better results.

Sgt. Roy Costner

"Buzz" Mendel sights from the prone position.

Dorryl Heath seems to like the kneeling position best.

John Trott "squeezes" one off.

Sgt. Costner exploins to "Buzz" Mendel how torgets ore scored.

Joe Colletto records his score for the doy.

Wriston Thompson tries the stonding position for o chonge.

Joe Colletto exhibits his skill with the standing position.

Wriston Thompson shows "Buzz" Mendel the firing pin.

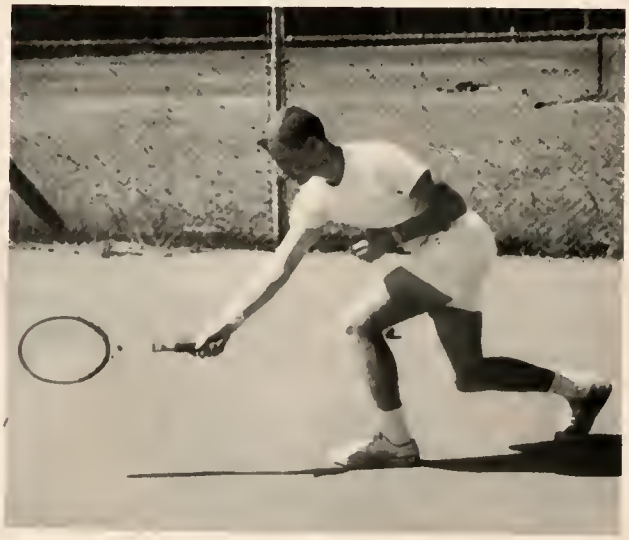
Paul Yesbeck ond John Trott discuss the basic elements of the kneeling position.

TENNIS

The Tennis team combining the talents of four Virginians and a South Carolinian and a Pennsylvanian take to the courts this season against crack opposition. They will try to overcome their lack of experience by using the fight and determination that is synonymous with every Abbey team.

Larry Fuccello, Captain

Pat McDermott demonstrates how a backhand should be stroked.



Jerry Balducci shows his skill with the forehand.

Babby Hadges shows deep concentration in his pursuit of the elusive tennis ball.

Tom Vaught prepares to receive his opponents serve.

ABBEY'S VICTORY PARADE

Forward-ho! was the cry of the over enthusiastic crowd of Abbey students as they proceeded toward Charlotte's Douglas Municipal Airport. Three hundred students and fans, jammed into a sixty car caravan, decorated in Abbey's traditional scarlet and white, sent off the B. A. C. basketball team to Evansville, and for the N.C.A.A. regionals. Amidst the bewilderment at the airport unit from W.C.G.C. who broadcast an on-the-spot covering of the festivities.

EVANSVILLE TRIP

The Crusaders added another first to its long list when the team accepted a bid to the NCAA College Regionals played at the beautiful (Roberts) Memorial Stadium in Evansville, Indiana.

Abbey drew Evansville College, the host club, for the first game and from the start it was apparent that the winner would go all the way to the national championship. As it turned out, Evansville with the benefit of the Hoosier Hysteria, won 66-54 and then went on the following week to win the national honors.

In the consolation game the following night the Crusaders were pitted against a strong Southern Illinois University, a club coached by Harry Gallatin, a former teammate on the New York Knickerbockers of the Crusaders coach Al McGuire. Abbey took the Illinois boys 79-70.

Danny Doyle and Jim Sparrow were selected on the all tourney team.

The Evansville fans fell in love with the Crusaders as evidenced by the fact that in the 1959-60 season the Crusaders will meet Evansville, Southern Illinois, and Kentucky Wesleyan. In addition to that they requested Coach Al McGuire to be their principal speaker at the Evansville basketball banquet. Al accepted.

Tension mounted so high in the heated battle of the Championship NCAA play-off game between the Abbey and Evansville, that the fans provided Coach McGuire with a popsicle in order to cool off.

The Very Rev. Father Walter, O.S.B., Ph.D., Chancellor of the College addresses the Convocation.

LIBRARY DEDICATION

Our year saw the fulfillment of a long dream when the Abbot Vincent Taylor library was dedicated in April. Handsome in its restrained contemporary design the library provides a pleasant atmosphere for Abbeymen in their pursuit of knowledge.

The climax of many years labor, the venerable Father Michael McInerney, O.S.B., receives the degree Doctor of Literature (Lit.D.) from St. Vincent's College. He is replying to the citation honoring him.

Father Gabriel, O.S.B., B.S. Libr. Sc., the Director of the Library is explaining his joy and happiness with his new library.

The guest speaker at the Convocation, the Rev. Father Harold Gardiner, S.J., literary editor of America, is delivering his address.

FAREWELL

The old Master

Fr. Bernard; always cheerful, always helpful, whether in an administrative capacity or as a friend.

The Student Body of Belmont Abbey College pays tribute to our departing Academic Dean, the Very Reverend Bernard L. Rosswog, O.S.B., S.T.D. Father Bernard's absence from the Abbey's administrative offices will be difficult to comprehend. We suspect that students will continue to drop by his office for words of wisdom, counsel, and advice for some time to come, only to remember that Father Bernard is no longer with us.

His appointment to parochial work after many years of service to Abbeymen will deprive future generations of his deep understanding, friendly counsel, and immense knowledge.

Father Bernard served as Rector (Administrative Head) and Vice-President of the college from 1949 to 1957. Under his direction, the Abbey was re-established as a senior college and the groundwork was successfully laid for our recognition as a degree granting institution by all accrediting agencies. His guidance strengthened the curriculum and his recognition in academic circles gave prestige to our college.

As a result of the administrative re-organization of the college in 1957, Father Bernard became the Academic Dean and was charged with the supervision of the faculty, curriculum and internal functions of the college. He has served in this capacity until the present time.

Father Bernard, when we unite to say sincerely and fervently "thank you" for all you have done for us, we speak not only for ourselves but for our alumni.

As Academic Dean, Fr. Bernard, O.S.B., is conscientiously selective, especially so in choosing the correct curriculum that will be of the most benefit to our students from foreign lands.

Fr. Bernard, O.S.B., delivers address at graduation exercises.
